From The President

Kirk Braden

On Saturday, August 17, before the Armadillo Enduro at Big Scrub, the Executive Boards and other interested parties from SETRA and FTR met to discuss some of the differences between our organizations.

It was decided to implement a study to be completed after the Cochran enduro to determine if some riders are signing up in lower classes than they have been promoted into with the other sanctioning body. This is something that you riders need to help us out with. If someone who has been promoted to a higher class in FTR is signing up in a lower class in SETRA, or vice versa, let the referee know so it can be taken care of.

Also discussed was the matter of class differences between FTR and SETRA. At the present time FTR recognizes 20 classes at enduros and SETRA recognizes 26 with differences as follows:

FTR has no A-125 class and no 4 stroke class. FTR has a Womens B class, SETRA does not. The biggest difference is in the age classes. They are as follows: FTR's senior class is the same as SETRA's vets class starting at age 35. SETRA's senior class is similar to FTR's super senior class starting at age 40, with the exception of FTR having no super senior C class in enduros. SETRA's super senior class starts at age 46. The masters class for FTR starts at age 50, and for SETRA at age 51. To bring the classes in line, it would be necessary to create a class in FTR for ages 46 and up, as well as a 4-stroke class and a class for A-125 riders, and eliminate the womens B class. Using the FTR suggested trophy depth, this would result in 23 more trophies that would have to be provided by the promoting club.

The addition of 23 trophies to any clubs enduro budget is in the $350.00 range, possibly enough to make the difference between making money and not, with no guarantee of a larger rider turn out due to more classes.

It was also suggested to use the AMA class system, but after a quick look through the AMA rule book, it is apparent that this would add an impossible burden to promoters, as there are 30 classes in the AMA rule book.

I feel that both FTR and SETRA must work together on this problem, and I welcome input from riders and promoting clubs. Either write to me or to the magazine and let us know how you feel.

The SETRA people have decided to no longer grant sanctions in June, July, or August due to the heat, the length of the season, as well as the problem of completing year end scoring for their banquet. This decision will affect both Richloam and Big Scrub as they are usually co-sanctioned events. Hopefully, this can be worked out by the clubs involved, as this would benefit all concerned.

Congratulations to the Big Scrub Trail Riders for an excellent event despite the dry conditions. The checks were well placed, with two hard ones and two smart ones.

My only complaint is that I am still seeing downed logs every time I close my eyes to blink out the dust! Good job guys!

See you in the woods! Kirk Braden

10th Annual ARMADILLO ENDURO August 18, 1991

FTR ENDURO SEASON STARTS.

The Florida Trail Riders started the 1991/92 competition series with the Big Scrub Trail Riders 10th Armadillo Enduro. The event was co-sanctioned by SETRA (Southeastern Enduro & Trail Riders) and many riders made the long drive from North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia to compete with the Florida riders on this challenging course. The enduro was held on Sunday, August 18 in the Big Scrub section of the Ocala National Forest. The Ocala National Forest is the largest of the three National Forests in Florida. The course for this event was laid out mainly in the pine forests and consisted of two track roads, woods trails, fire breaks and around sections that had been cut for pulp wood called "clearcuts". The club had two rather tight trails that you were checked into and out of. These trails were where the majority of riders lost points. The Big Scrub Trail Riders had received over 210 pre-entries and because of this expected a large turn out. They were not disappointed as the final tally of the entries showed that 140 FTR members, 60 SETRA members and 60 riders that belonged to both FTR & SETRA had ridden the enduro plus 26 beginners for a total turn out of 286 riders. Earlier I mentioned what the terrain was like. I failed to tell you that there had been no rain in the area for two weeks. This would make the competition all that harder. It didn't take a genius to figure out that it would be a dusty ride. On the long trip down the dirt roads to the start area you could see the dust billowing out from behind your car. I know that everyone that arrived on Saturday did whatever they could do on Saturday night to get the rain god to dump some much needed showers before the enduro. It didn't help! Mike Reynolds and Allen Pearce were the trail bosses and event chairmen, they have been doing this for the last 10 years. If you know them and enjoyed yourself you might consider saying "Thank You"! Maybe they will do it again? During the riders meeting Allen emphasized the need for the riders to stay alert and use caution because of the extremely dusty conditions. He also said they were going to give the riders some slow sections where they would be on time rather than have resets

the season opener

where they would have to come to a complete stop and then sit there in the hot sun. We now have a new enduro term "Rolling Reset". Most riders said it worked out pretty good.

Mark Eaddy from Johnsonville, South Carolina, piloted his brand new Husqvarna 250 to a score of 7 and convincingly won the "High Point" Trophy. Mark is sponsored by Cagiva of North America, Carolina Wheel & Prop, Scott, Yoko Racing Apparel and Answer Products. He was runner up in the 1989/1990 FTR Enduro Championship. Five riders turned in the next best score of 10. Two were Allen Gravitt and Steven Smith who finished 2nd and 3rd in the AA class. David Wyatt won the A-Open class with a 10. A-200 winner Mitch Greenberg dropped 10. George Eaddy (Marks brother) went 10 down to really whip up on the Super Senior A riders. There was a tie for the first three places in the A-250 class all the riders had a score of 11. Hare Scrambles rider Todd Sandoval riding only his third enduro took second after the ties were broken. Sixteen year old Todd Rion from Palatka rode his first enduro, dropped 16 points, and won the B-250 Class. 13 year old Kevin Plankey, from Seminole, won the Beginners (start to gas stop only) classes with a score of 29.

One of the pluses of promoting a successful enduro is being able to somehow legally fool the contestants into making mental errors that result in them losing points. While in the past I have heard comments about check placement, there was NO such talk at this event. Better than fifty riders were caught early at check points, some did it more than once and one poor guy earlied four checks. He still took home a fifth place trophy though. While you might contribute this to clocks being off or not set right, there wasn't any protests over the clocks. The club had two other checks that nobody was going to zero and that's the way it worked out. The Big Scrub Trail Riders can walk away from this one knowing they put on a good enduro for everyone, with the exception of the dust and the heat...something they had no control over. "It don't get much better than that!"

CONTINGENCY PROGRAMS

Last year at this time "Contingency Programs" or "Contingency Awards" were something that the FTR membership just read about. Now we have many! While all of these programs are similar in many aspects, because each program is provided by a different organization it is only right that they are operated and managed in separate ways. Here is a list of the Companies that have contacted the FTR concerning "Contingencies", KAWASAKI... YAMAHA ... SUZUKI. There are other programs from other manufactures that are available. These programs are usually dealer operated and administered. If your bike is not manufactured by one of the companies listed above then it is suggested you contact your dealer to see if something is available. To save you some grief and frustration here are some guidelines that will help you and the person responsible for processing your awards.

1. You must sign up for the program on one of the Manufactures Contingency Registration/Release forms. These forms are available from your dealer, at the races and enduros, and from the contact listed for your program. These forms must be fill out correctly and received by the manufactures representatives before anything will be done.
2. You need to notify the FTR Score Keepers (both of them) by mail with your name, class, bike/size and riding # (if Hare Scrambles). This is so the "Official Scores" that will be sent to the individual program administrators, back at the Corporate Headquarters, can verify your finishes and see that you are riding the proper bike. Signing up for entry at an event has nothing to do with this. The Score Keepers and the Magazine never see these event applications.
3. Send a copy of # 2. above to the Magazine, so you can be listed on the proper bike in the right class for your achievements. This info will be entered into the FTR Membership computer and will be used to list what bike you are on when you place in competition. The magazine is also received by all "Contingency Awards" program administrators and maybe used by them as a reference now and then.

FAILURE TO DO ANY OF ABOVE LISTED ITEMS MAY KEEP YOU FROM RECEIVING YOUR AWARD!

FTR & SETRA MEET

Minutes from the informal meeting between FTR & SETRA officers at the Big Scrub enduro, on Saturday, August 17, 1991:

Those present:

Buddy Gillard
Tom VanderPlaat
Mike Reynolds
Skip Wyman
Robert Possehl
Ron Miller
Ricky Dennis

James & Patty Brandsford
Danny & Barbi Barrett
Tom Russell
Jack Huffman
Johnny Thomas
Bud Hardeman
Kirk & Mary Lynn Braden

Kirk Braden opened the meeting with the first issue discussed being the promotion system used in SETRA. Tom VanderPlaat acknowledged that this is indeed a problem, and is currently being studied by a SETRA committee. He also mentioned the age/class difference between the organizations.

Buddy Gillard noted that SETRA does currently have a rule that requires a rider who already belongs to an organization must enter in the same class when they join another organization. It was acknowledged that this was not watched very carefully.

It was suggested that after the Cochran enduro, when the season is pretty well established, the rosters from each organization should be checked, and advancements required where appropriate.

Jack Huffman asked how SETRA handles a request to return to a lower (B or C) Class. Buddy explained that after five events a rider can request to go back, but they must ride a full season in the higher class.

Ron Miller gave an example of several Hare Scrambles/Motocross riders who had never run an enduro. Their scores were compatible to the A riders because they were, in fact, very good riders.

Jack explained the FTR system of advancement points, which is loosely based on the AMA system of advancement.

Tom Russell suggested that FTR adopt a rule similar to SETRA's requiring that a rider must enter the same class in each organization.

Next, the age/class requirements were compared and discussed. At this time, FTR, SETRA, and AMA criteria all are different. An informal committee was formed to see how these differences can be reconciled to a more uniform application. The absence of a 4-stroke class in the FTR enduro series was also noted.

Jack described the recent rule change in FTR as it applies to starting row selection.

Tom VanderPlaat emphasized that everyone must realize that nothing can be done this season, but that things are now in progress.

Bud Hardeman brought up a request to eliminate events in June, July and August, as these are too close to their awards banquet, as well as making the season too long. Tom VanderPlaat stated that SETRA had voted to no longer sanction events during those months.

To help comply with this request, Mike Reynolds will try to switch the Big Scrub enduro to Labor Day weekend next year, and CFTR will be asked to try to move their event to the Memorial Day weekend.

It was announced that the Olustee enduro will be co-sanctioned and held on April 26, 1992.

It was agreed that there would be another meeting on Saturday before the Croom enduro

Road Trips...

by Rick Eyrich

Today if you look in the back of most motorcycle publications you'll notice the "motorcycle tour vacations" ads. You can venture to Baja, California to dodge tumble-weeds and desert turtles, or maybe you'd prefer to cruise thru a green New England forest, marveling at the lush leafy landscape while listening to birds chirping and brooks babbling. Let's face it, to motorcycle racers most vacations are BORING, so why not try to combine your vacation time and your dirt bike hobby into one?

Of course there are those out there who would take your hard earned cash and then send you on a one-way dirt bike trip to the bowels of the Earth. After conducting a long and tiring research study of these bogus trips, (YEAH-RIGHT.) I've listed a couple of these worst vacation ideas below as examples for you to avoid at all costs. So read them carefully- someday you might thank me...

Wee, Cheatum, and Howe Travel Club.

"The Bogota 100 Enduro", Columbia, South America. This jungle enduro/trip includes a VERY special test. A ten-point-two-mile long ride thru some very isolated "agricultural fields". This ride is extra special if you're able to dodge all the small caliber arms fire...

Short-Stick Trips, Inc. "Touring the mud-bogs of Davis, West Virginia." Sign up if you dare! This is sure to attract the more masochistic element of off-roaders. Be sure to have yourself completely laminated head to foot, plus watch plenty of monster truck/ mud-boggers on cable TV as a reference...

Saddam's Sanderific Safaris.

"Sand dragging thru the scenic Middle East nation if IRAQ." SELF-EXPLANATORY. Know what I mean-Vern.

Letter to the Editor

For a number of years FTR & SETRA have had co-sanctioned Enduro's. This year nearly all of the FTR enduro's will be cosanctioned. 1. Is this good for the sponsoring clubs? 2. Is this good for the FTR Enduro riders? 3. Is this good for FTR? I would like to express my opinion on these points. First, I want to say that I think SETRA is a fine organization and over the years I've come to know many people in SETRA. I have the highest respect for them and what they are trying to accomplish. Their objectives are the same as that of FTR, to provide their members with a championship series with quality events. It started with Tallahassee and Valdosta having co-sanctioned events because of their location, many riders from south Florida could not make the long drive. The clubs needed the extra riders to make it profitable. As the number of Enduro riders has declined over the years more clubs have turned to a co-sanction for the same reason. So point number 1, it can be good for the clubs. A club can not or will not put on very many Enduros if their losing money, especially if that's their only event of the year. Over the years I've known several "C" riders who would not go to co-sanctioned events because they felt that they did not have a chance for a trophy. It's also been noticed that at many hard Enduro's a SETRA "C" rider will turn in a score that would have taken a first in the "A" class. FTR has taken the stand that the "C" class is for the novice rider. FTR has a promotion system for "C" riders that over the years has proven to be fair and has the capability to advance a rider at any point in the season. SETRA only promotes at the end of the season. So it is quite possible for a SETRA "C" rider to totally dominate a class for the whole season and at best be promoted to the "B" class at the end of the season. This same rider in FTR would have been promoted to the "B" class after a few events and could be promoted to the "A" class at the end of the same season. FTR's advancement point system is based on the AMA's advancement system. I've gone back through past FTR magazines to prove my point. For the past three years 70% of the "C" class first place trophy's have gone to SETRA riders. Also 65% of the "B" class first place trophy's have gone to SETRA riders. Point #2, I don't think that co-sanctioning is good for the FTR riders until both organizations are using similar systems for rider classification and advancement. Point #3, when there were just a few co-sanctioned events a year it was good for both organization to compete head to head at the same event, after all, Enduro's are a competition event. But now that most of the FTR Enduro's are co-sanctioned, there is no longer a FTR Enduro series, its a SETRA-FTR Enduro series. It's not good for the FTR "C" rider who is competing against riders who should be in the "B" or "A" class. Most "C" riders are competing for a trophy for that event and are not competing for year end points. Because of this it will be harder to get new riders to stay in the sport when they have little chance to win a trophy. With out new rider's coming into and staying in our sport of Enduro's the long term effect is not good for FTR or Enduros in the state of Florida. Nick Krupa
