THE '95 KTM's ARE HERE !

KTM STICKS A FORK IN JAPAN !

"...a company will have to pull out all the stops and release something truly phenomenal to top the '95 KTM suspension package."

"...the KTM felt great on every part of the track. In fact, we didn't even know there were braking bumps on the track until we rode the other bikes we had along for comparison."

"..Now its up to the Japanese to see if they can hang with Europe in the suspension sweepstakes."

WITELACOOCHEE HARE SCRAMBLES by the Central Florida Trail Riders by Randy Stone

Bikes and Bluegrass. An unusual combination, at least in the FTR Hare Scrambles series, but one that seemed to work out all right for the approximately 300 entrants at the CFTR promoted Withlacoochee Hare Scrambles. The October 22-23 event took place near Dunnellon at the same site and just two weeks prior to the annual Bluegrass Festival for which the area is well known. As a result, several early Festival arrivals got to listen to the shriek of two strokes as well as the twang of banjos.

The seven mile course made effective use of the mostly open pasture land by interspersing sections of woods and trails. Many riders were pleasantly surprised to find a dry course after several weeks of almost continuous rain in the area. In fact, the promoters had to hunt for some wet ground to spice up the event. Unfortunately for some, they managed to find a couple of particularly nasty sections that brought more than one aspiring champion to a quick halt and resulted in more than a couple of trips over the bars.

Saturday events included another CFTR riding clinic and escorted trail ride followed by the usual competitive events and the new 60cc and Sportsmen classes. In the Vintage class, Craig Borders showed Dorsey Bennett the fast way around for the win. In Super Vintage, Mike Phillips found some stiff competition from Bobby Moriarty who has really caught fire this year in both Saturday and Sunday races. In the Quad A class, George Edwards continued his winning ways but was feeling the pressure from CFTR rider Doug McCard who was followed by Mark Hulbert and Chad Skiles. In Quad B David Drums took the top honors followed by CFTR VP Steve Duga and David Hodge. In the first of the two new classes introduced this year, Garrett Edmisten showed he knows how to ride a Mini 60 even faster than he rode his Pee Wee 50 last year. He was followed by Joshua Noel and James Southworth. In the new Sportsmen class, 0-200cc winner was Brian Pratt followed by Debbie Narayan while Ronny Martin led Kevin McCall and Shawn Meredith home for the win in the 201cc-open class. A total of ten riders competed in both the Mini 60 and Sportsmen classes.

At the Sunday 10 o'clock specialty class race, Senior A rider Tim Ealy took unofficial overall honors just ahead of fellow Senior A rider Bernie Noel. Among the many fine rides at 10 o'clock were Beth Rewis' and Vicki Wilcox' virtual dead heat in the Women A class with Beth managing to get to the scoring chute first. In the Master B's, Richard Argabright took the win but Corky Jefferson kept him honest a scant six seconds behind. And finally, in the Junior class, Todd Kenward turned in a fine ride for second behind Bryan Watts in only his second outing since moving up from the Mini ranks.

Spectators who were looking forward to another battle royal in the noon AA race were not disappointed, at least for a few laps. Although A-Open rider Jeff Wingard got the jump off the line on his big ATK, he was quickly displaced at the front by AA's Kenny Keyton and Mike Phillips. Jeff subsequently went down for the count in the third turn after a crash with eventual winner Mike Phillips putting his bike out of commission. Mike and Kenny continued to battle for the lead until a third lap close encounter with a fence post put Kenny's bike on the disabled list too and he was forced to retire leaving Mike with the uncontested win. Robert Possehl seems to be making a habit of breaking in brand new bikes at CFTR events as he took second AA with a new KTM 300 that still had packing material stuck to it. Robert did the same thing at last year's Smith Ranch mud run with a new 250. It must be nice. Another impressive ride was turned in by Bobby Moriarty in the A-250 class as he ran away with the win over Paul Seburn. In the B-250 race, Chuck Fee kept the pressure on class winner Dan Williams all the way to the finish and ended up only five seconds down. Conrad Eigenmann, on the other hand, only had to keep going to claim the A-Open win as all four of his fellow competitors failed to finish on a course that was touted to be tailor made for open class bikes.

By two o'clock the water hole section had been churned into a thick bowl of muddy chowder forcing a re-routing to dryer ground. Unfortunately for the C class riders, the front section along the road could not be by-passed and although it made for some great spectating and many Kodak moments, it took some intense effort by course workers to prevent a major bottleneck as the tire sucking mud caught the careless or faint hearted riders by surprise. One such rider was C-Open winner, Michael Scott who fortunately managed to lose only a few seconds to runner up Kevin Swen who blasted his big Husky through the section on every lap without incident and finished only 10 seconds back. Fortunately no one had to leave their bike behind or call in heavy equipment and the race finished pretty much on time.

Apparently the event scoring was turned over to the same crack team of professionals who had handled morning sign-up as it took some time to finalize and post results. In the end, the protests were cleared up fairly quickly and trophies were finally handed out so no one had to spend an extra night and the CFTR crew could breath a sigh of relief at least until March when we get to do it all over again.

As usual, this event would not have been possible without the help of a lot of people and the CFTR thanks you all especially Mike and Steve for finding the land and taking care of AMA sign up, the Knights for the use of the land and campground, and all of the people who helped to organize, conduct and score the race. And we want to especially thank all the patient folks who stood in line at sign-up and didn't offer their expertise on how it could be done so much better.

HARD-ROCK Hare Scrambles

by
huffman

What's in a Name? Probably the person that named this Hare Scrambles didn't think about this when they named this race, but the name sure was appropriate. It was HARD, there were lots of ROCK's and it was race number 3 in the FTR championship series. As Editors of the FTR magazine it is not our job to write articles about the FTR races and enduros for the magazine. While not a written rule or a condition of receiving a sanction it is the promoting clubs responsibility to do this. We feel the membership is interested in what happens at the enduros and races and because we usually attend all the FTR events we will, from time to time, write something about an event when we don't receive a timely story about a past race or enduro. We wish we didn't have to write about this one.

For the most part this weekend was just like most FTR race weekends. Good area to camp, good facilities, except for a few areas a neat place to ride and race, good spectator points, good weather, good turn out and much more. So what's the problem?

After practice on Saturday a few riders felt that the course was to demanding for their abilities and requested refunds for safety reasons. This was repeated on Sunday morning. Some riders didn't get to complete a lap of practice due to many riders not being able to negotiate the up hills and down hills on the course. Many riders didn't ask for refunds, but were so late returning from practice that they missed the riders meeting completely. It is my personal opinion that if a club is willing to take a riders entry fee then they should provide a rideable course for all the riders? This should include the mini's, women and other classes where the riders ability is somewhat less than that of the AA's. The rule book provides that "a course must not contain any possible bottleneck situations"... This rule was ignored! Common sense says that a riders chance to fairly compete in a competition should not be jeopardized by another riders inability to ride their bike.

On the up side of all this, and for this very reason, FTR rules for the Championship Series count only your best 8 of the 12 sanction races (70% of the sanctioned races in the series). So if you had a bad day or got your money back you can count this race as one of the 4 you won't count anyway. On the other hand if you drove all the way up there from South Florida for a good day of racing and didn't get what you expected it would be easy to understand your disappointment.

Easily the most anticipated race of the weekend was the shoot out between Mike Phillips and Kenny Keylon in the AA/A classes bash at noon. This time these guys would have a new challenger in the form of pro motocrosser Brian Swink. When the race started Keylon, Phillips, Robert Possehl and a host of others got the jump on Swink. This lasted till the riders left the motocross track and jumped into the woods. Brian had a 50 yard lead on the pack at that point and except for a short pit stop for gas all the riders saw of him was his back. Swink High Pointed the event with Mike finishing 43 seconds behind him. Robert Possehl came in 3rd overall with 4th going to Kenny Keylon and 5th to A-250 rider Bobby Moriarty.

High Flying Brian Swink
High Point

In the morning race the course problems were more evident than the rest of the races. In the Senior C race 33 riders started and only 18 finished in the allotted time (2 hours). Many races were won by a lead of 5 minutes or more. The largest differential between 1st and 2nd place finishers was in the Women A class, were Jenni Terrell put 17 plus minutes on a normally competitive Cheryl Myers and more on the rest of the riders.

Other than some bad decisions (my opinion) on laying out a few parts of this course, The Big Scrub Trail Riders had an excellent event that was coordinated and promoted well. Like all FTR events, good or bad, many hard and long hours, always by just a handful of volunteers, were donated to put on a otherwise fun weekend. We applaud those that took time to provide this event for the FTR Series. However, I'm sure some disappointed riders will remember it as "the course from hell" when and if their thoughts ever wander back to this race.

DECISIONS

Decisions are something that we all make every minute of every day and to racers none seem so important as the ones made while racing. During the 10:00 A.M. race at the recent Hard Rock 3 hare scrambles I made a bad decision somewhere between the motocross track and the first big downhill and ended up on my head only to rejoin the race at the back of my class. I am sorry to say that this turn of events offered me the opportunity to make some more decisions such as, do I stay on my bike with the other forty some racers waiting there and watch a group of riders attack a hill that was clearly impassable to them or do I get off my bike and help?

While helping the riders push their bikes over this hill I had to consider why did we, the paying entrants, get put in this position? Why were there no course workers here to help the less able riders? Did the promoting club intentionally create a course that would be passable by mountain sheep and experienced racers only? Absolutely not! I am certain that the individuals laying out the course believed that it would be challenging but passable; they just made a bad decision.

Why did this happen? The FTR has rules published in the rule book that prohibit course sections that may produce bottleneck, have individuals assigned to pre-ride the course to evaluate its layout, and have procedures that require a promoter to alter the course to remove possible bottleneck situations. Did all of these people truly believe that the course would be passable for all entrants thus not create a bottleneck? Once again a series of bad decisions.

Finally I had to think how unfortunate it was that the right decision was not made to provide alternate routes around the bottleneck areas as had been done at previous races. It is unfortunate not just for those racers involved in the situation but for all of those people that devoted so much of their time and personal resources to promote this event. I hold these people in very high regard for their efforts and contributions to our sport and in no way is this article directed at any one individual. I hope that all promoters benefit from the lessons learned here and I look forward to the next race at the Ocala Motocross Complex, but I expect when I pay my money to race, both the promoters and I make better decisions.

David Leckie Senior C #11

BOTTLENECKS

Until November 6th I thought bottleneck was something you got when drinking to many Bud's. The Hard Rock III hare scrambles put a whole new meaning to it. I waited in line with 40 plus other riders. It was a mess. I never in my life have been this frustrated during a race. Many things can stop the race clock such as crashing, flat tire, running out of gas, motor seized up, ran off into a lake, but this was the worst. Some of us lost 20 min. extra in a lap due to the bottlenecks.

Take note in the FTR rule book. (Don't you just hate the word rule book.) The club is suppose to avoid any bottle neck situation. This club is no exception. The course was expertly laid out. It was alot of fun and the bottle necks could have been avoided. Racing is a good sport. Bottlenecks take the fun out of racing.

I am proud of the FTR and the way events are run. Things are changing, maybe we should get more involved.

Why are we paying Gate Fee's? Do land owners get the money or does the club? Are we loosing land because the land owner did not know of the gate fee? The entry fee's have really gone up I remember when I paid $10.00 to race now you are up to $30.00. Why the increase? Does the club really need this much profit? I love to ride my bike. Don't price us out of the FTR. Be fair and let's all get back to racing.

Thank you
Bob Poneleit

Over The Bars

The Wife's Perspective

The weather excuse wasn't working, nor was the feigned headache. I guess that only works for indoor sports. The "but honey, I just spent all the money in the checking account" excuse didn't get his attention either. It's amazing that men never have any money when you want them to, but come race day, BANG, it all instantly appears! They must have money growing under their helmets! Anyway, it's me, the husband, and our daughter off to the Azalea City Hare Scrambles.

We leave a little late but still expect to make it in plenty of time for practice. Did you ever notice that men get lost more often than women? And they get lost a lot longer too! Can't ask for directions you know. Not the "manly" thing to do. In any case we do get there, Late, but there. With not barely a parking place left. I wonder how they're going to manage the Sunday class's crowds.

For some reason if I go to the events with my husband I instantly become his "gofer". This must be the wife's role at these races. Get this, get that. Did you pack this or you forgot that! Help me with my camelback! Carry my helmet! I just don't know how he manages when he goes without me. Perhaps he's trying to make me feel useful. Then he runs off gabbing with some other riders. And they say women are long winded! So I guess I'll just sit back and read my Howard Stern book. Now that really helps me put men in the proper perspective!

It's showtime! I now learn that I get the very important job of "bike holding" at the starting line. Again, I wonder how he ever manages without me. I'm feeling SO needed! This being my first time at "bike holding" I wasn't smart enough to hold the bike and step back. Like a fool, I stood there and watched and got a face full of dirt to boot! Fun stuff this is! Lap one goes along just nicely and then the sky decides to open up. Not a sprinkle but an all out downpour! Are we having fun yet?! Like a good wife I stand there in the pouring rain cheering my man on! No, we didn't pack any umbrellas. After all, it was sunny when we left home!

The race ends with my husband coming in second. Now that part was actually exciting. I did my hug of the mighty muddy racer (who cares about rain and mud at this point!), and then what does he do! He drops all his gear right in the dirt and heads off to do some more gabbing with the guys! I guess again he's trying to make me feel useful so I pick up all his stuff and neatly put it across his bike. I guess packing up, buckling up, and picking up all must be wife-related duties. I just don't know how he ever does this without me!

Laura Frey

I may be mistaken but I believe last year it was voted on and passed that Master B would start ahead of the Super Senior C class and that we would ride the same number of laps as everyone else.

The last three races have not followed this rule change. I cannot see spending $4000 on a bike, paying all the entry fees and gate fees, plus driving hundreds of miles, to race two laps, which usually consists of about 12 miles when slower classes are racing 3 or 4 laps.

Now for the reasoning of the clubs. Azalea City Hare Scrambles did start the Master B ahead of Super Senior C but at the riders meeting stated everyone would go 4 laps except Mini B and Master B. Here we start ahead of a slower class but do less laps. Figure that one out. You clubs put on some good races but at the same time you have to exercise some common sense. Master B class only has about 15 to 29 riders at each race and I realize most of the FTR riders don't feel this concerns them. This is important to me as I'm sure it is important to my fellow Master B riders. At the next riders meeting lets all get together and voice our opinion so we can race like everyone else.

In closing I would like the clubs putting on Hare Scrambles to really look at this. Super Senior C and Senior C have about 30 riders each. Most of the Master B class is yelling and screaming at 90% of these two classes to get out of the way 200 yards into the woods. I really believe we should start ahead of them and darn sure ride the same number of laps if we are passing them.

Thank You
John Krell
FTR #5-24290

EDITORS NOTE:... I need to tell you that according to the times and number of laps ridden that are printed in this magazine (3 Races) you have misquoted many numbers and facts. A quick look at the results will indicated to you that most of the Master B riders are not faster than the 90 % of the Senior or Super Senior C riders, in fact, its not even close.

To clarify the starting position and number of laps problem you should attend the next hare scrambles meeting and bring a good written proposal on what you want to change, but be sure to get your numbers and facts straight!

Palm Beach Track & Trail Riders Race

November 19th & 20th 1994

Richard A. Giuffreda

After three weekends and 1,440 miles of driving from the Broward/Palm Beach County area to set up a trail for this race, we were thrilled to be able to pull off this event despite the persistent efforts of Tropical Storm/Hurricane Gordon. The trail was originally a little over nine miles and included a jump over the large mound of clay at the entrance. Unfortunately approximately two miles of the trail was lost, due to the weather, and it was necessary to confine the trail primarily to the sugar sand areas of the property, as the trail we utilized last March on the east side of the property required a jet ski to navigate. I heard many comments throughout the weekend from the riders regarding this event including a comment from a rider, in his first year with FTR, who originally competed out-of-state, who approached us and thanked us for putting on the event and expressed genuine appreciation for and acknowledgment of the hard work and effort of the club members who actually put on the event. In fact, must to our surprise, it seemed as though most riders enjoyed the track despite referring to one section as the "whoops from hell".

On Thursday, November 17th, at 4:00 a.m., Darryl Craig and Herm Stevens jumped in Herm's truck in W. Palm Beach to drive to the property to determine whether or not it was under water. After a little over three hours of driving, when they arrived, much to their surprise the property was suitable for a race, although obviously it did not present the most ideal of conditions. The original forecast was for a sunny weekend, consequently the decision to go with the event. Darryl then returned to Palm Beach County, after another three hours of driving, loaded motorcycle, riding gear and trail cleaning equipment, etc. and immediately made the return trip back to the property. Allen Scott and myself joined Darryl at 3:15 a.m. Friday morning, after a four hour drive, to begin the process of reconstructing the road which had washed out and turned into a river, as well as beginning the process of re-routing the nine mile course into a usable seven mile course. With the help of Joe and Ray of Hartland & Cattle Co., Darryl, Alan and I were able to drop two, 25' galvanized steel pipes in the river and fill the road back in with sugar sand and grade it. Many thanks to Joe and Ray, hunters extraordinary and property management supervisors for Hartland & Cattle Co. for their valiant efforts to recreating a road which was nonexistent on Friday.

The 10:00, 12:00 and 2:00 races went off without a hitch, with the only problem occurring during the 10:00 race regarding the number of laps to be ridden by the Senior C Class. It was originally felt that the track would not withstand the pounding of hundreds of riders and as a result there was concern it would become impassable in places and so rough that lap times would increase to the point of creating the possibility of houring out. However, immediately following the riders meeting, it was brought to our attention that many of the riders felt two laps was insufficient. As a result, the decision was made to increase the number of laps to three, with the exception of Mini's and Women B.

During the riders meeting it was clearly expressed that the number of laps for the 10:00 race could change and it would be announced at the starting line. Prior to the start of the 10:00 race, with the assistance of a bull horn, Randy Rash of Palm Beach Track & Trail Riders clearly announced, several times, that the riders in the 10:00 race would all be riding three laps, with the exception of Mini's and Women B. I was standing in the grass field of the start area, on the opposite side of the first turn and I could hear him with his back to me from that distance. For those of you who apparently did not hear Mr. Rash, we can only offer an apology. However, it is clear that the majority of the riders at 10:00 not only requested the increase to three laps, but heard the official change announced by Mr. Rash.

Kenny Keylon High Pointed the event with Mike Phillips hot on his tail. At the end of the third lap, Kenny had a 30 second lead on Mike, but he pulled off the track as he believed he had completed his fourth lap (even AA riders are human too). During this brief hiatus, Mike caught Kenny and passed him as he skirted the grass field at the start area. Upon discovering his error, Kenny took off like a bat out of hell and gave chase. Because I was scoring all day, I'll never know what happened in the woods, but at the end of the event, Kenny came out on top. However, it was apparent that Kenny and Mike, and all of the riders for that matter, gave it their best and put in one helluva ride.

I would like to personally thank the few hard working people of the Palm Beach Track & Trail Riders who put on this event. Our club is routinely faced with the problem of having only a few people who are willing to actually do the work, traveling 3-4 hours one way in order to do it. I really appreciate all of your work and effort and all of you know who you are. I'd also like to thank those who assisted in scoring, as well as the FTR members who set up and ran the Peewee course and 60 cc event. Obviously the efforts in supporting the Peewee and 60 cc classes builds the future of FTR through the encouragement of the enjoyment of our sport by the youngest of our FTR riders.

In closing, I would like to say that, yes, it was the race from hell at times for both the riders and the Club. Some of us, deep down, hoped that we could have cancelled, but we felt that you, the FTR riders would rather ride than sit at home and watch the Dolphins lose again...Hope you all had fun.

Attention RIDERS!!!

MORE ABOUT CONTINGENCIES that are offered by the manufactures.

We have been asked to print this information so some misconceptions can be cleared up.

Are You Registered?

In the last few months we have written articles here with pointers to help you receive any contingencies that you are eligible for. All of the Contingency Coordinators have told me that the biggest problem they face is riders requesting payment for a contingency they have won without being properly register for that contingency. All the bike manufacturers and most of the equipment programs require that you register with their program officials when their programs starts, usually the first of January, or when you purchase their product if that's after the first of the year. Your purchase of their product does not constitute you being registered. You will need to fill out forms and give them the necessary information so they can process your request. Now is the time to get registered for next years bucks. Remember if you snooze you loose.

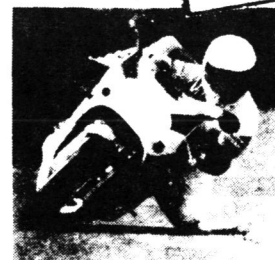

Most contingency problems and questions can be handled or answered by calling 407-264-0559.

BRER FOX HARE SCRAMBLES

I would like to thank the Palm Beach Trail Riders for putting on an outstanding race. I was very impressed with the course workers. As sections of the course became impassable there were at least four or five workers at each area re-arowing and ribboning off the muddy sections. I noticed them each lap of the race and unlike some clubs where the course marshals disappear the last few laps, these guys were there till the last lap.

When it comes to Hare Scrambles West Palm is the BEST.

To those of you who haven't ridden one of their events, don't miss the next one. I can guarantee you it will be one of the best races you ever went to.

One word of caution, you will have to put up with some old guy that goes by the name of Herm. But still all in all I'm sure you will be impressed with this club.

Ole Brer Stevens and the rest of you West Palmers GOOD JOB - GOOD RACE.

SECURE LOCK

Secure Lock is no ordinary bike lock. Inside Secure Lock's weather-resistant casing is an adjustable vibration sensor. If someone moves your bike or tampers with Secure Lock, its piercing 103-decibel siren screams for a full 30 seconds or until you turn it off. If thieves cut through Secure Lock's sturdy steel cable, they'll never hear the end of it. Secure Lock keeps screaming until you disarm it. The cable's a full five feet long, so it's easy to lock your bike. Secure Lock's also great for scooters, mopeds, and minibikes, too.

A International Six Day Enduro Experience

Larry Kuhn DMD, MD is a dentist and anesthesiologist practicing at Winter Park Memorial Hospital and was one of 4 American physicians participating in the medical support for the International Six Day Enduro in Tulsa. He is also an FTR member.

FTR: What was your role in the ISDE?

I was one of the 2 physicians that met with the FIM, which is the sanctioning body for the ISDE, and presented the overall plan for treatment of injured riders without an appropriate evacuation and plan to help injured riders the ISDE could not be sanctioned. In addition, I helped coordinate medical care for 600 riders, their support crews, and spectators.

FTR: How was the medical support organized?

Dirt bike riding paramedics were positioned at each checkpoint with Moose-Racing backpacks containing emergency medical supplies and two way radios. In addition there were 10 riders that left the starting line between every 60 riders. These riders rode the course as part of "medical sweep crew." At each grass track and terrain test there were 2 ambulances and 4 paramedics. St. John Medical Center in Tulsa had a helicopter on standby to evacuate any seriously injured patient. We also had a 3 bed "MASH" unit set up on the administration building to treat anyone who was able to walk in.

FTR: What kinds of injuries did you see?

During the first two days 45 riders were treated for dehydration and these were guys that had drank 4-5 Camelbaks over 7 hours of racing in dry 85° weather. Beginning the 3rd day the numbers of fractures increased as the rain made things more slippery and riders began finding the "bi-wheeled forward momentum impeding devices (thanks Robert Frey). Scott Summers was one guy who had his day ruined by one of these rocks. Support personnel were treated for everything from lacerations to smashed fingers.

FTR: Did the paramedics have trouble keeping up with the racers?

In general we cleared the course when they approached. One interesting story occurred when Tullio Pelligrenelli fell and dislocated his shoulder. After it was put back into joint we were asked by TTR = Tulsa Trail Riders to follow him to be sure the Italians didn't switch riders. Unfortunately our guys had a hard time staying with him. The obvious by line was "A one armed Italian is faster than a two armed paramedic".

FTR: How did you find out about injured riders on the course?

As riders came into the checkpoints they would let us know someone was injured. One "course marshal" was in charge of each small section of trail and could usually help us get to riders quickly through the use of shortcuts. In addition our riding paramedics frequently came across injured riders sitting or laying next to the trail.

FTR: How did this ISDE differ from past ISDE's?

The FIM wanted a physician at every checkpoint and 8-10 ambulances. Their protocols were set up for European events where trauma care is not as advanced as ours. It took a god amount of back scratching and political maneuvering for them to approve our plan. In actuality the organization and support was better than what has been available in Europe.

FTR: Was it fun?

I had a great time. The ISDE is something every dirt rider should experience at least once. I got to talk to our trophy riders, support our FTR guys, and watch the world class racers. It's a great experience to talk to the guys you read about.

Editors Note: Our "thanks" to Larry for taking time to send us this different, but very interesting, aspect of the ISDE.

LETTER to the EDITOR

Dear FTR;

Now that the season is underway, its time to begin looking towards next year. Already this year we've seen the success of Sportsman class racing. An entry into the world of racing for beginners, and a boon to the sponsoring clubs by boosting Saturday revenue!

To continue down the path of club growth and to maintain and develop the visibility that is needed to help off-road riding survive, I have another idea that I am offering up for conversation and contemplation.

The FTR Trail Ride Series. Now before you start moaning and groaning about extra work or whatever excuse you may think of, listen up. The premise is that since there are poker runs held at our H/S events, why can we not incorporate these into a fully named and recognized series. Think of the possibilities/if you walk into a dealer, buy parts for your bike, and there, staring you in the face is a flyer advertising the entire Trail Ride Series Schedule. Wow, new riding places in a different part of the state! Hey, Phil, let's go to one!

Just like Sportsman, no extra work, no extra headache, more FTR members and more Saturday revenue. There may even be a possibility of a trail ride at an enduro, beginning after the last row and going to the gas stop. The possibility is only limited to ones desire to watch the club grow! So whatdayathink?

Look for a proposal coming to a committee meeting near you.

Robert Frey

NOTES FROM THE HARE CHAIR....UPCOMING H/S COMMITTEE MEETING AGENDA....

As you may know, the sequence for rule making is proposal, then presentation in the magazine, then voting in or out. The rules then go into effect the next season. There will be a Hare Scrambles Committee Meeting 2/4/95 at the TREASURE COAST TRAIL RIDERS Hare Scrambles. The meeting will be at 5:30 pm, at my brown Dodge van (#466).

All clubs with sanctions this year need to send a representative. PLEASE BE ON TIME.

Also, we need A, B, C, Senior, and Women Rider Reps. Volunteers please contact me ASAP. The duties are simple, show up at the meeting and vote for your division.

We have two items of old business to vote in, and this meeting will be the ONLY OPPORTUNITY to propose rules for next season. One thing I'm doing differently this year is giving you "coming attractions" on the agenda. Thus, this is what I have so far...

OLD BUSINESS-TO BE VOTED IN/OUT-

1) [rulebook p.39#3]-Starting Order-It has been proposed that Master B start ahead of (it's now behind) Super Senior C.

2) [rulebook p.36 a6] Mini Class-It has been proposed that the 48" wheel base requirement be deleted, and that the requirement be simply 17" wheel diameter.

NEW BUSINESS-RULE PROPOSALS--

1) [P.16 C1] Should there be 1 or 2 Sportsman Classes? Are there enough riders to Justify 2 classes?

2) [same]-We need to finalize the number plate configurations for the Saturday events.

3) [p.41 a3]-Rulebook states that riders may ride 1 division only. It looks like we need to amend this to state that they may also ride Vintage/Super Vintage and/or quads.

4) [pg5 1b4] Should there be a "Saturday Event" Rider Representative?

5) [p16 c1] To this point, the Saturday events have been on a trial basis Is it time to formalize them into FTR, and to what degree?

If anyone has anything else to propose, now is the time to let me know...Joe Steidl H/S Committee Chairman

LETTER to the EDITOR

To The Editor,

I would really like to commend the Palm Beach Track and Trail Riders for setting up such a nice Brer Fox Hare Scramble Peewee course.

It was well laid out and kept separate from the main course, where as other Peewee courses were either part of the main course or so close it made their practice dangerous.

BORN to PONDER

I would like to take this time to pose a question to the membership that has been bothering me for a few months.

As a staunch supporter of the AMA, I find it difficult to believe, but I feel FTR events would be better off without gaining an AMA sanction.

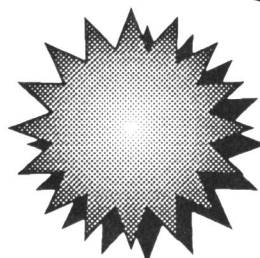

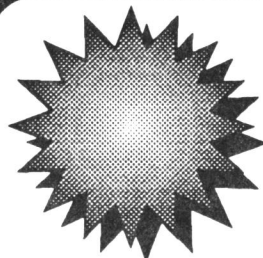

While speaking with some people, a few good, solid arguments came up. Any FTR club can obtain the same insurance for AMA and non AMA events. Any club can use the AMA required safety guidelines at their event. So, ... If we can follow the same proven safety guidelines to limit our liability, along with obtaining the same insurance coverage, how can that actually benefit FTR with out the AMA's help? Easy, listen up.

If you compare an AMA sanctioned event with an FTR only event, you will find turnout is greater at the FTR event. Why, $29.00 extra, that's why. I believe people should be AMA members, but I don't believe we need to force the issue upon them. Follow me!

I have recently found out about a man who brought his family to a race, looking to enter himself and his kids. Where an FTR family membership would have sufficed, at $45.00, plus entry fees for an afternoons entertainment, this gentleman was required to pay for an AMA membership for each and every rider! Imagine, you bring your two kids yourself, and your wife so everyone can be involved. Let's see, FTR $45, AMA 4x$29-$116, entry 4x25=100. $350 for a day of riding? Who needs 4 subscriptions to the same magazine? Wouldn't it have been less expensive to gas up a Sea Doo and spend the day at the lake? The family would have had fun there too.

I can understand how we can easily lose our perspective on the actual cost that is incurred by families to participate in our events. While I understand that some costs are fixed, and need to be covered with certain pricing levels, we still need to at least open a dialogue relating to the cost effectiveness of gaining AMA sanctions for our events, when we can receive the same coverage and the same safety factors, along with the fact that no FTR AMA sanctioned event is listed in the schedule section of the AMA magazine.

Just a thought, what do you think? Robert Frey...Born to Ponder

"Dear Santa"

Well, its the Christmas time of year again. Time to rejoice, count our blessings, and revel in the joy of our loved ones. Its also time to get down to business and see what you can snooker your wife into buying you so you can at least finish the season. Depending on the equipment, you might even win! So here goes the letter to the greatest off-road rider of all time, (No it's not Malcolm Smith!), The Big Guy Himself, (No, Not Rush Limbaugh), Mr. Deride Redid (And it ain't Scott Summers), The All Time World Champion Enduro and Scrambles Rider who has NEVER, and I mean N-E-V-E-R Houred-Out or DNF'd; the one, the only,.....SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa;

You may be thinking that I'm a little too old to be writing to you, but, I always thought you were in the hearts and minds of children. I think that includes me, because every woman I've ever known has said that men are childish. So in that respect I hope I pass your tech inspection. To get on with the nitty-gritty, I would like to ask you to please bring to me:

1) A finish at an enduro. 2) Okay, Okay,... a new bike. Maybe a Husaberg 501 or something. I'll even settle for a new 300E/XC or another Husky. 3) New Boots. I broke my buckles and these old ones are looking pretty rough. 4) Some new Dunlop 752's would be nice. 5) One of those nifty $300 custom-designed helmets. I haven't had one since my Red Simpson Bandit with the black chrome shield and my old FireCracker Red GPz. If you can find that bike, I would like her back. 6) How about some new riding gear. I like the Bieffe graphics. 7) I would need a color-matched chest protector to go along with the clothes. 8) A finish at an enduro. 9) A big, black pick-up truck with a new trailer. Or if you have enough room, you can substitute an RV for the truck, I don't mind. 10) I love those perennial favorites you bring us men. I really appreciate those white Fruit of The Loom briefs, and the pack of tube socks! 12) A finish at an enduro. 13) And please don't forget the world peace, the end of hunger, the decline of violent crime, the end of racism, honest politicians, and a settlement in the baseball strike, so the Red Sox can go to the Series. Thank You.

Hey, the reason I didn't ask for a great FTR season is that we can do that ourselves. Stop me at the next race and I'll show you how Santa did. That is, if you don't mind seeing shiny white briefs and new tube socks! Happy Holidays FTR!
